

One Mess of an Egg Toss

By Kaylene

A funny thing happened to me on Hillbilly Day last year. One afternoon, we had an egg toss. The whole class walked to the parking lot. Lilly and I were partners. The moms gave eggs to all the people on one side. Someone said, "Go" and we started tossing the eggs back and forth. After a while the sound of eggs cracking filled the parking lot, time to toss it again. Well, I think that one got thrown a little bit too hard. Our egg was cracked on the ground. I wished we didn't have to clean it up! I ran to the "sink" outside. That was one messy egg toss.
