

The Joke War

By Stephen

On a sunny day at lunch time my family was eating spaghetti. While we were eating I started a joke war with my dad. Everyone was laughing, then my brother Jonny told jokes that were not funny, but we still laughed. Then my mom said, "don't tell hurtful jokes!" One of my jokes was, "you need to eat shrink rays to grow!" It did not make sense but it was still funny. My family and I like to laugh! We are a happy family. My family and I like to tell jokes!
